VERMONT LAND GRANTEES 1749-1803

This publication assembles the names of 14,794 persons who received land grants in early Vermont. The first grants, called the New Hampshire Land Grants, distributed 58% of present-day Vermont to New Hampshire settlers. The second round of granting, called the Vermont Charters, allotted the remaining 42% of the state to other land speculative New Englanders.

The New Hampshire Land Grants were issued from 1749-1764. They consisted of 135 tracts of land granted to 8,603 persons. Some of these grantees settled the land, while others sold their grants and never lived in Vermont. These grants, identified by town in Table 1 and shown on Map 1, are contained in The New Hampshire Grants, Vol XXVI by A. S. Batchellor (BAT895).

Subsequently, New York, who never recognized the legality of the New Hampshire Land Grants, patented much of Vermont from 1765-1776 (see Table 2 and Map 2, New York Patents). The land was assigned in large tracts to 107 absentee landlords, who leased small parcels to tenants (HAL870). In some instances, these hired tenants of New York land owners settled in Vermont on lands previously granted by New Hampshire. The ensuing conflict between the New Hampshire people and the Yorkers is the central theme of Vermont settlement (OCA851).

In 1777 Vermont became a republic. Shortly thereafter, mainly from 1779-1782, Vermont began issuing charters for land not allocated previously under the New Hampshire Land Grants (see Table 3 and Map 3, Vermont Charters). Some 105 charters were offered to 6,191 people. The names of these grantees are found in the State Papers of Vermont, Vol 2 by F. H. Dewart (DEW922). An alphabetical arrangement of the grantees is found in Vermont's First Settlers by Jay M. Holbrook (HOL976). When the multiple listings of land speculators are removed, it appears that 4,483 persons were granted land by Vermont.

All names in this publication are alphabetized (column 1) to facilitate immediate access to any person. Following the name is the year (column 2) the individual received the grant and the township (column 3) where the grant was located. The "LG" (column 4) following the township name, stands for land grant. The source of information (column 5) is a six character code followed by a colon and the page number of the original document. The first three characters abbreviate the author of the document; i.e., BAT for Batchellor or DEW for Dewart. The next three numbers represent the year of the document. This code refers to sources listed in the bibliography.

Appreciation is extended to the American Antiquarian Society for their extensive Vermont collections used in assembling an annotated bibliography. Acknowledgments, also, to Kenneth Biddle for his programming advice; to the National Survey of Chester, Vermont, for their outline map of Vermont; to my daughters, Lanae and Jalene, for their data entry and proofing services; and to my wife, DeLenc, for her editorial recommendations.

DUA784

Duane, James 1784. "State of the Evidence and Arguments in Support of the Territorial Rights and Jurisdiction of New York against the Government of New Hampshire," Collections of the New York Historical Society, 1870. Volume 3: 1-144. Author argues that New York's right to present-day Vermont is based on grant of King Charles in 1664 to his brother, the Duke of York. The grant included "all the land from the west side of Connecticut River, to the east side of Delaware Bay."

FOX940

Fox, Dixon Ryan 1940. Yankees and Yorkers. New York: New York University Press. A discussion of early boundary controversy between New York and New Hampshire. Author claims New York had legal right to Vermont.

FRY908

Fry, William Henry 1908. "New Hampshire as a Royal Province," Studies in History, Economics and Public Law. Volume 29: 189-526. New York: Columbia University Press. An examination of the emergence of New Hampshire. Discusses early land grants that became part of controversy over Vermont.

GOO908

Goodrich, John E 1908. "Immigration to Vermont," Social and Economic History of Vermont, pp. 65-86. See also Vol 5 of Collections of the Vermont Historical Society, 1943. Author suggests that religious persecution in Massachusetts and Connecticut encouraged Vermont settlement. Men's debts also encouraged removal to a land of opportunity.

GOO904

Goodrich, John E 1904. Vermont Rolls of the Soldiers in the Revolutionary War 1775 to 1783. Rutland: Tuttle Co. Lists of soldiers, together with the time served, pay received, and enlistment period.

GRA797

Graham, John Andrew 1797. A Descriptive Sketch of the Present State of Vermont. London. A charming narrative of Vermont towns and people. He cites the prominent people of the towns and their economic activities. For example, the inhabitants of Shaftsbury "are rich farmers, principally emigrants from Rhode Island." The major towns at this time were Bennington, Rutland, and Windsor. Additionally, he suggests that the New Hampshire land-grant conflict was a major cause of the Revolutionary War. A useful book for providing insights on the character and types of people in Vermont.

HAL865

Hall, Benjamin H 1865. History of Eastern Vermont. 2 Vols. Albany: J Munsell. A discussion of the New Hampshire land grant controversy. Appendices in volume 2 contain documents highlighting early period. Appendix J gives a tally from Cumberland County, New York, of the opinions respecting a separation from New York in 1778.

HAL868

Hall, Hiland 1868. The History of Vermont. Albany: Joel Munsell. Discusses in some detail the New Hampshire land grant controversy. Includes Dr. Mitchell's 1755 map showing New Hampshire as the claimant of the disputed land.

HAL870

Hall, Hiland 1870. "New York Land Grants in Vermont 1765-1776," Collections of the Vermont Historical Society. Volume 1: 145-159. A list of New York land patents in Vermont.

HAL872

Hall, Hiland 1872. Why the Early Inhabitants of Vermont Disclaimed the Jurisdiction of New York and Established an Independent Government. An address before the New York Historical Society Dec 4, 1860, arguing that Vermont rightfully was not part of New York. His points included: (1) all maps prior to 1764 showed the western boundary of New England running from the southwest corner of Connecticut on Long Island Sound northerly to Lake Champlain; (2) charter of 1664 to Duke of York is ambiguous; (3) decision of 1764 was political since New York was a favored colony. England wanted to confine the opposition of New England.

TRA932

Trabue, Edmund F 1932. The State of Vermont vs The State of New Hampshire. Washington DC: Supreme Court of the United States. Contains a review of colonial documents associated with New Hampshire and New York over the New Hampshire Land Grants. Conflict was over the location of the boundary line on either the high-water mark (New Hampshire) of 1764 or the present-day, low-water mark (Vermont). The court ruled that the boundary line was the low-water mark on the West bank of the Connecticut River. A corollary of the decision was the validity of New York's claim to Vermont based on the 1664 grant to the Duke of York.
